

2020 PROS TO KNOW

AN ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT TO THE LEDGER INDEPENDENT

Mental health has been treated differently in the health field for quite a while. Many are not sure what to do when they “feel sad” or are “un-sure how to cope.” Today, more and more people are seeking that open hand and open door to help them find peace and hope in this ever-changing world. There are still helpful people, still hope to be found, and that is where New Hope comes in.

Who are we?

New Hope Community Services started with a single vision in mind: promoting the health and quality of life for our community. New Hope prides itself on being a small, highly trained mental health and substance abuse treatment facility with a passion for people and for change.

Most mental health agencies visit with their consumer for an hour or two, send them home, and do not worry about them until the next visit. New Hope cares for its consumer every day; encouraging consumers to go above and beyond where they think their threshold may be.

Coverage, and Availability

New Hope is fortunate to be able to accept insurance from Kentucky and Ohio. This includes but is not limited to Aetna Medicaid, Anthem Medicaid, Humana, TriCare North, Molina, New Directions, CareSource of OH/KY, and many more! Just give us a call!

One of the most asked questions: “How long does it take to get in?” We are very thorough with our intakes, which means it can take up to 2 hours to complete. This allows us to make sure we can give the proper clinical diagnoses, referrals if necessary, and to make sure we can give the best possible care. After the initial contact is made, an appointment can be set for as early as a week or two, sometimes quicker if there is open space.

COVID-19 and New Hope

With many businesses closing, only offering online programs, or cutting all services completely, New Hope is standing strong! We are offering in-house and Telehealth services to all our consumers and allowing for paperwork and sessions to be conducted through electronic means to make each person feel as comfortable and ‘safe’ as possible. All our classes and groups are also offered on Telehealth so you do not have to miss a DUI class because of illness or fear of contracting the virus. Our counselors are offering sessions over Zoom, and our mentor workers are taking extra precautions when leaving and coming back to the office. All consumers, staff, and visitors are undergoing pre-checks before entry into our facility; and masks are being given to those who do not have their own. These are just a few ways that New Hope is showing that we care about each person who visit our facility.

Services

At New Hope Community Services, we offer several programs that include group meetings as well as one-on-one counseling sessions. Some of these groups include Adolescent Intensive Outpatient (AIOP), Adolescent Intervention Program (AIP), Intensive Outpatient Programs (IOP), Life Skills classes, Family in Transition classes (FIT -court-ordered divorce classes,) Prime For Life (PRI,) Commonwealth of KY certified Driving Under the Influence (DUI) classes, and many more options to help with all stages of your life. We offer counseling beginning at the age of 4 on up. We cover any topic that you need to but some that we have helped others with include depression, drug addiction, personality disorders, grief/loss, self-harm, divorce, anxiety, and more. Each session is custom built for each person’s individual need to encourage growth and the steps to finding peace. We also offer drug testing, and psychological and neuropsychological testing for AD/HD and ADD, along with other disorders with a highly detailed assessment done by highly trained staff.

Why choose New Hope?

Our passion, and the passion of each employee is to see each consumer till the end of their journey-whether that is life struggles, recovery, or apex of their potential. The moment when a teen’s self-esteem rises or when a consumer struggling with addiction and celebrates the first milestone of sobriety. It is the moments that make each day a great day at New Hope. We cannot always offer to be exactly what you need, but we will try and give you all we have.

This is the day the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it. -

Here at the Wagler's we've got a lot to be thankful for. Steve and I started our furniture business in November 2005 – after years of dreaming of having Daddy home every day, "our" dreams were finally unfolding. Steve worked on a carpenter crew since his teen years, then had his own crew for 10 years working in Indy building homes for the Estridge Group – had lots of good times - yet "our" boys needed Dad and we kept longing to have him home every day.

We were both raised on the farm, so this is different for us to try and run a business. Lou, Kristina, and I took care of most of it for 6 years while Steve was pulled back and forth from remodeling homes to helping us evenings with work. This November we will now be in business 15 years, with Steve home every day for several years. Thanks to God our Father and to you, our customers for making this possible. Please stop and see our new showroom, loaded with new arrivals, and see our new cabins, the outdoor and indoor furniture and the swing sets. We carry Barns, and Sheds, and we can build to your size and style.

Our Family helps us the business, our sons, Stephen, Aiden and Jesse. Son in Law Jacob is here 5 days a week, which was a much added blessing and help. The girls help with what ever we need inside and outside, and the list is never ending.

If you're in our area feel free to stop and take a look or just to sit in our rocker or swing for a chat. Our customers have also become our friends. – Give us a call. There may be a warm sweet roll, cookie, or coffee ready and waiting for the relaxed moment on the front porch. – Come join us!

AUGUSTA

Come to Bradford's Home Mart

don't know about you all but don't you get tired of going into these big box stores and no one around to wait on you? Or no employee is very knowledgeable on the products you are interested in?

garden, electronics, housewares, paint & supplies along with furniture & appliances? We are an unusual store that "carries a little bit of everything." People stop in from out of town and are amazed at our little store.

This family operated store has been serving the Bracken County and surrounding counties for over 100 years if you go back to the very beginning. Harold & Josephine Bradford purchased the hardware business from a cousin of Harold's in 1946. The original location of Bradford's Home Mart was down on Main Street where the Augusta General Store is now located. After a flood or 2 they decided it was time to relocate. They searched everywhere for property to build on and was coming up empty handed. Just as they were going to look elsewhere the property became available on the main highway in Augusta, where it is still located today. When the Bradford's retired they're daughter Carol and Lillard Lynch bought the business. At the age of 16 I started working for Lillard & Carol through a JTPA program associated with the school. If you count the years C.K. Bradford owned the store Bradford's Home Mart has been in business for over 100 years. Not too many "mom & pop" businesses can say that.

We'll look no further for the perfect hardware/ home mart store. Where you can expect friendly service. It is easy to feel like a nobody in a big box store. With lots of aisles and numerous brand options of items and materials, anyone can become overwhelmed with dealing with staff that aren't well trained and don't have enough knowledge to help. At your local independent hardware store, we will always be ready to help you find what you need and what you are looking for. Also with us there isn't any need to feel like any question is a stupid question. If there isn't something we understand we will ask enough questions to try and figure it out.

Along with friendliness and variety we also have high quality products. Box stores aren't genuinely concerned with customer satisfaction. There mentality is to make more profit and in doing so they tend to have a poor quality product. Our local independent store relies on our customers to remain satisfied to continue with a successful business. If our customer isn't happy we try and fix that. Therefore we have to carry a quality product so our customers return.

products for your next plumbing or electrical project. Come check us out for your kitchen remodel and we will help you pick out the perfect appliances for you. Your living room set going on 20 years old, stop in and choose from many different styles and fabrics to best suit your comfort.

Another reason to select a local independent store is variety. How many stores can you go in to shop plumbing, electrical, lawn &

Cleanliness is a compliment we get regularly. We are told often that our store does not look like a typical hardware store. We take pride in our store and do everything possible to maintain our reputation for being clean. Our staff is always cleaning or buffing floors. We are proud of our store.

HOW TO CHOOSE:

A HEARING AID PROVIDER

The most important factor in your satisfaction with hearing aids is the professional who fits them. It is this specialist who does the initial hearing testing, selects the electronics of the hearing instruments and adjusts their sound quality and fit. The specialist also provides counseling in adjustment to amplification, and strategies for better hearing. The best way to choose your hearing healthcare professional is through a referral from a friend or associate. If they are happy about the way they were treated, you probably will be too.

You may purchase your hearing aids from either a Licensed Hearing Instrument Specialist or an Audiologist. Both professions offer Board Certification for their members, an advanced qualification proving their competence. Ask about their credentials.

Ask about the size of the business and the business hours. Make sure that they have adequate staff to see you when you need them. Find out if there are other locations to serve you if you relocate or are traveling.

Make sure that your specialist offers a trial period of at least 30 days. It can take several months to become completely accustomed to your hearing aids, but you should be confident that they will work for you before the trial period ends. It is common to pay a fee if you return the instruments within the trial period.

You may need several follow-up visits and regular check-ups during the years that you wear your hearing aids. Some specialists "bundle" their fees, charging one price for the hearing aids and providing all of the associated testing, service and follow-up at no charge. Others charge "a-la-carte". Either practice is acceptable, but make sure that you are aware of all of the fees when comparing professionals and the prices of hearing aids.

Of course, check to see if the practice that you are considering is a member of the Better Business Bureau. Check with the BBB to see if there is any pattern of unresolved complaints.

Hearing aids open a world of better hearing. Choose your hearing professional wisely, and listen to life again.

FACTS ABOUT HEARING LOSS

Hearing is essential to full enjoyment and participation in life. Unfortunately, today 1 in 10 Americans – over 55 million people – experience some degree of hearing loss. Hearing loss in the third leading chronic health condition among Americans, after arthritis and high blood pressure.

Prolonged loud noise is a more common cause of hearing loss than age. As future generations are exposed to ever-increasing levels of noise pollution, age will probably decrease, and environment increase, as a factor in causing hearing loss.

Noise can do more damage than you think and the risk is widespread. Every day, thousands of Americans expose themselves to noise levels that will almost inevitably lead to long-term hearing loss.*

BENEFITS OF WEARING A HEARING AID

According to a recent study, people with hearing loss who choose to hear better by using hearing aids say their decision made significant improvements in many areas of their lives. From closer relationships at home to greater independence in social settings, the study of over 2,000 adults with hearing loss clearly concludes that hearing aids improve lives.

The study, which included 2,090 close family members and friends of hearing-impaired respondents, also determined that adults aged 50 and older with untreated hearing loss are more likely to suffer from depression, anxiety and paranoia. They also are less likely to partici-

Quality Care Here For You!

Selling Homes Since 1942

Experience counts.

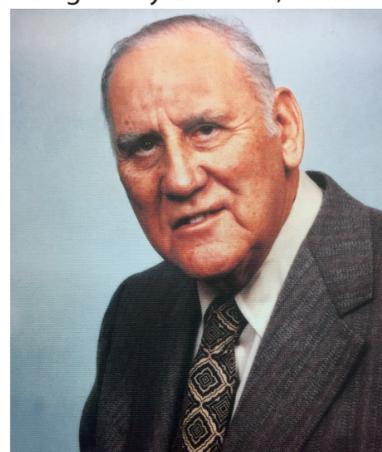

Henry H. Boone started in 1942 selling real estate and sold his first house on 2 acres for $3,500 in July of 1942. In 1949 he moved his office to Maysville from his Germantown residence to become the head of the real estate department at State Trust Bank which is now US Bank. The business was named Town & Country Real Estate in the 1950's. Mr. Boone specialized in purchasing farms and selling off 25 foot lots at auction for subdivision developments, such as: Country Club Heights, Limestone Village & Indian Hills all in Maysville; Northland Subdivision in Georgetown, Ohio; Highland Heights in Fernleaf; and Mt Airy & Breeze Hill Subdivisions in Plumville.

Town & Country was the major real estate company in Mason County in the 60's and late 70's. Mr. Boone was joined by his daughter-in-law, Barbara Boone in 1979. The duo moved the company from the then State National Bank to its present location at 1321 Southgate Plaza in 1989. Barbara Boone obtained her broker's license in 1984 at which time the company began to grow with new agents coming on board the real estate team. Some of the past agents have included the late Elza Whalen, John Hay & Howard Stewart. Other past agents of the 70's included Bill McHugh, Barbara Royse-Jones, Leo McKay, Jean Miller & Carol Walker. The 80's added Kathy Phillips, Betty Groh and Gayle Mullikin. The 90's grew and saw the retirement of Henry H. Boone. Then broker, Barbara Boone was instrumental in bringing a much needed multi-listing service to the area. Being one of the founding companies, Barbara served as president of the Buffalo Trace Multiple Listing Service for 8 years and was a leader in the industry year after year, selling residential properties and farms throughout her 37 years in the business.

Now retired from sales, Barbara serves as Principal Broker of the company. Other family members including Henry L. Boone, Jennifer Boone & Larry Poe have all recently been part of the sales force but now hold their licenses in escrow. The current sales force consists of daughters; Angie Boone-Ishmael, licensed in 1997, earned her broker's license in 2016 and also serves as Associate Broker and Sarah Boone, licensed in 2004. Cindy Ring, Jeff Crawford, and Ron Redden join Angie & Sarah in the current sales force. All are active today and making Boone Real Estate a constant leader at the top of real estate sales year after year.

Could Your Next Doctor Visit Be Virtual?

Since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, many providers are using telehealth as a safe, convenient alternative to an in-person visit. Could a telehealth appointment be right for you?

Telehealth visits are most appropriate for more routine visits to the doctor—such as if you are fighting a cold or sore throat, or have a question about a rash. Like an office visit, you'll be able to ask a provider questions, receive quality care and a prescription for medication if appropriate—all from the comfort of your own home!

Dr. Paul Conrad, ENTLC, visits with a patient during a virtual telehealth appointment.

To schedule a virtual telehealth visit, call your provider to learn if telehealth is an offered option and appropriate for the nature of your visit. If your visit qualifies, your appointment will be scheduled and you will receive an emailed link to begin your visit when the time comes. All you will need is a computer or mobile device equipped with a camera.

Your Health Journey:

Why it Might be Time to Add Routine Colonoscopies

Colorectal cancer is the third most common cancer—excluding skin cancers—diagnosed in both men and women in the U.S. It is also the third leading cause of cancer deaths in both men and women. And while most colon cancer cases occur in people 50 and older, the disease can happen to men and women at any age.

According to the American Cancer Society, you should begin colon cancer screenings at age 45. Those at higher than average risk may need to begin screening prior to age 45, and more frequently and/or with specific tests. High risk groups include those with:

- A personal history or strong family history of colorectal cancer or certain types of polyps (growths in the inner lining of the rectum or colon which can turn cancerous)
- A personal history of inflammatory bowel disease, or history of radiation to the abdomen or pelvic area to treat a prior cancer and
- A known family history of hereditary colorectal cancer syndrome.

The good news is that regular screenings can not only find colon cancer early – making the disease much easier to treat – but can even help prevent colon cancer.

“Colonoscopies are an essential component of our fight against colorectal cancers,” says Dr. Donald Weller, a gastroenterologist at Meadowview Regional Medical Group. “Most colorectal cancers begin as polyps. The simple procedure of a colonoscopy not only helps us detect the disease early, but it also allows us to find and remove colorectal polyps before they turn cancerous. The benefits can be life-saving.”

While not all polyps become cancerous, those that do usually take many years to do so, and colorectal cancer may not show symptoms in the early stages—making regular screenings all the more critical to protecting yourself against the disease. And getting a colonoscopy might be easier than you think.

“It’s an easier procedure than many patients realize,” said Dr. Weller. “The procedure usually takes about 30 minutes, during which time any polyps found will be removed, with tissue samples sent for a biopsy. Prior to your screening, your provider will likely give you pain medication and a sedative to ease discomfort.”

When colon cancer does exhibit symptoms, they can include:

- Blood in the stool (which may make the stool look dark) or in the toilet after a bowel movement;
- Rectal bleeding with bright red blood;
- Change in your bowel habits, including diarrhea or constipation or a narrowing of your stool, that lasts for more than a few days;
- Cramping or abdominal pain;
- Weakness and fatigue; and
- Unintentional weight loss.

While these symptoms can also be indicative of other health conditions, your provider can help you get to the root of the issue and determine the underlying cause.

“We recommend that everyone talk to their provider about colorectal cancer risks, discuss when a colonoscopy could be right for them and alert their provider to any symptoms that occur,” Dr. Weller says.

You can also take additional steps to aid in prevention of colorectal and many other forms of cancer, including daily exercise, a healthy diet, maintaining a healthy weight, limiting your alcohol intake and eliminating smoking.

Contact Meadowview Regional Medical Center at 606.759.5311 or visit MeadowviewRegional.com to learn more about colorectal cancer and to schedule your colonoscopy today.

Sleep, Glorious Sleep: Get the Rest You Need This Year

Did you make any resolutions for 2020? At the beginning of the year, many of us made fresh resolves to eat better, do better and be better. But did you make a resolution to sleep better? It's one you may want to consider.

"Many people don't connect the dots between the quality of their sleep and the quality of their overall health," says Dr. Jeffrey Dickerson, a board certified sleep specialist with Meadowview Regional Medical Center. "Most adults need at least seven to eight hours of sleep each night to maintain good health."

Unfortunately, a number of us aren't quite measuring up. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), a third of U.S. adults say they typically get less than the recommended amount of sleep. And a lack of proper sleep doesn't just make you feel groggy the next morning.

"Besides the feeling of being tired, poor sleeping habits can increase your risk for high blood pressure, elevated stress levels, weight gain, depression, poor health, and can put you or others in danger when operating motor vehicles or other machinery," says Dr. Dickerson.

There are a number of things you can do to improve your sleep habits – without having to count sheep. The National Sleep Foundation recommends the following tips for better sleep:

- Stick to a regular sleep schedule, even on the weekends
- Find a relaxing, nightly bedtime ritual away from bright light, and build time into your schedule to "wind down" before bed
- Exercise daily
- Create a pro-sleep environment, with a cool air temperature, and minus the noise, distraction and light that can disrupt your sleep
- Make sure your mattress and pillows are comfortable and supportive (If you've had your mattress longer than 10 years, it might be a good idea to invest in a new one)
- Avoid alcohol, cigarettes, caffeine and heavy meals in the evening

You might be asking, "What about naps?" A good approach to naps is to ensure that they are in the afternoon and no longer than 20 minutes.

"If you've tried different tactics and are still having trouble sleeping, you may be suffering from a sleep disorder," says Dr. Dickerson. "Left untreated, sleep disorders can be very damaging to a person's overall health."

The following four major sleep disorders are common in the U.S., according to the CDC:

- Insomnia includes the inability to initiate or maintain sleep, as well as early morning awakening and excessive sleepiness throughout the day.
- Narcolepsy is most often characterized by excessive daytime sleepiness combined with sudden muscle weakness. This muscle weakness often happens in "attacks" triggered by strong emotion or surprise.
- Restless Leg Syndrome (RLS) most often manifests as an unpleasant feeling in the lower legs, with an irresistible urge to move the leg. Those who experience RLS typically have difficulty falling asleep, and may try to relieve their discomfort by walking or kicking their legs and symptoms are usually worse in the evening.
- Sleep Apnea includes excessive snoring that is periodically interrupted by gasping or cessation of breathing. Without treatment, sleep apnea can cause serious health issues. In fact, sleep apnea may be a cause of another underlying condition like congestive heart failure or hypertension.

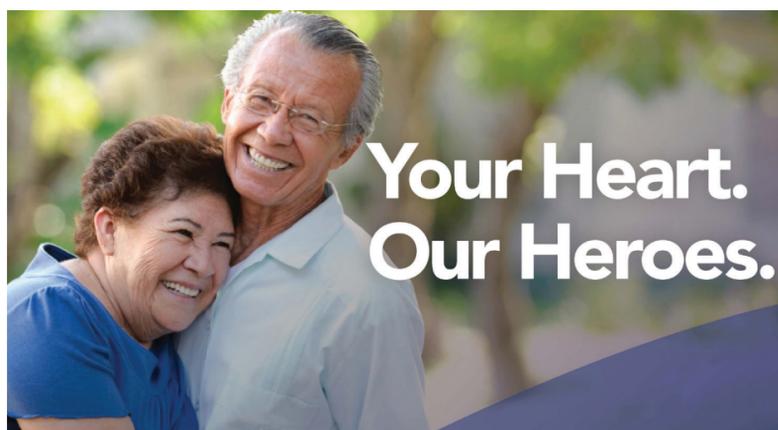

"If you are experiencing any of the symptoms of a sleep disorder or are having difficulty maintaining good sleep habits in general, it's important to contact your healthcare provider to determine the best treatment for you," says Dr. Dickerson. "Sleep disorders can often be treated behavioral interventions or, in the case of sleep apnea, continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) devices.

For more about good sleep habits, visit sleepfoundation.org or cdc.gov/sleep. If you'd like to speak with a healthcare provider about your sleep difficulties, Meadowview can help.
